Q: Styling Active Tab in Tab Control I have a tab control with 5 tabs. The tabs have their own set of styles that I have applied to them. I have a very simple action sheet that opens when an item is selected in the second tab. The action sheet looks like this: As you can see, the action sheet is presented as a new item in the last tab of the tab control. Because the last tab is selected, it displays the action sheet. My question is, how do I style it so that I don't have to see the active tab indicator highlighted? I would like to style this new item the same as the others. A: You can remove the active indicator from a TabControl using the ControlPaint.DrawTabWithDashedLine method. There are two ways that you can achieve this. The first would be to loop through the tabs and remove the drawing of the active tab indicator. You would replace the following code.

OnPaintBackground(PaintEventArgs e) { base.OnPaintBackground(e); // Draw the active TabIndicator line int indicator = 1; if (this.ActiveIndex > 0) { // Draw dotted line e.Graphics.DrawLine(new Pen(Color.Red, this.BorderThickness), this.TabBounds.Left - 2, this.TabBounds.Bottom - 2, this.TabBounds.Right - 2, this.TabBounds.Bottom - 2); // Draw arrow SolidBrush indicatorBrush = new SolidBrush(Color.Red); // Draw arrow tip using (Pen pen = new Pen(Color.Black, 2)) { pen.Width = 4;
(int)(e.Graphics.MeasureString("A", this.Font
